

Community College of Denver Paralegal Program

PARALEGAL INTERNS

Consider bringing on a paralegal intern from Community College of Denver! You can build our legal community and help prepare future paralegals for the workforce.

Our student interns come to you prepared, in their last semester of a certificate or transfer program in paralegal studies.

- They've completed courses such as Civil Litigation, Legal Writing, Evidence, and Legal Research, along with several other paralegal courses.
- They have experience with Westlaw Next and LexisNexis.
- Many of our students are bi-lingual, representing countries from all over the world.
- At CCD, we teach both theory and practical skills, as well as the value of professional development in areas such as ethics and equity.

Interested?

- We ask that interns work under the supervision of experienced lawyers or paralegals.
- Students are required to commit to 150 hours of paid or unpaid work during a 15-week semester.
- Interns can work on location or remotely
