

WebEx Breakout Groups-Student/Participant View

When you have added a student to a breakout room, they will see a message on the top of their participant section of the call. The student will also see a dialog box informing them they've been added to the group.

The screenshot displays a Cisco Webex Meetings interface. A central video feed shows a participant with the initials 'HA'. A dialog box titled "Breakout sessions have started" is overlaid on the video, stating: "You're assigned to the Breakout Session 1 session. You can join now, or you can join later from the participants list or the More options menu." Below the text are "Join Now" and "Join Later" buttons. On the right side, the "Participants (5)" panel is open, showing a notification: "You are assigned to breakout room Breakout Session 1" with a "Join" button. Below this is a search bar and a blue rectangular area. At the bottom right, the "Chat" panel is visible, showing a message from Huda Al Adhamee to Everyone at 1:16 PM with the text "Ok". The bottom control bar includes "Unmute", "Start video", "Share", and "Participants" buttons.

Once in the group, the student will have a message section in the participation bar of the group. If a time has been set for the group they will see how much time is remaining, as well as the “ask for help” button. The students have the option at the bottom of the screen to leave and return to the main room.
